CAUGHT IN THE ACT

Lady Who Tries to Filch Tablecloth From Merchant

It is altogether who you are. If it happens to be a person of means and social standing then it is kleptomania, otherwise it is ordinary stealing. This one was a kleptomaniac with a capital K, a fetching smile and a manner inclined to win the confidence of the innocent female with the yard stick.

The other day she entered a Second street dry goods store and while in a somnolent state unconsciously tucked 'neath the ample folds of her cloak a $3.50 table cloth. While she was apparently asleep the lynx-eyed proprietor was awake for just such subjects.

It is not necessary to state that both proprietor and customer were both somewhat surprised—one that the other would stoop so low and she being caught in the act.

TRUANT OFFICER

So Far No One Has Been Appointed in Maysville

The law in regard to the appointment of Truant Officers for cities of the fourth class is plain and explicit.

It is not an optional matter with Boards of Education whether or not they create such an officer, but quite the reverse—the law is imperative and demands that in the first week in July of each year the Board shall appoint one person for each three thousand pupils or fraction thereof to serve as Truant Officer and whose authority shall be limited to the city where the appointment was made. Such person so appointed shall be of strict moral character and with ability to read and write.

He shall be paid from the school tax levy of such city at the rate of not less than $1 nor more than $2.50 for each school day.

He is given power to examine into any case of truancy and shall warn the parent or guardian of the final consequences of truancy if persisted in.

Children between the ages of seven and fourteen years are specified as coming within the purview of the law.

After having served notice and the parent or guardian neglects or refuses to compel the child to attend some recognized school, he shall make complaint before a Justice of the Peace against the parent or guardian and upon conviction shall forfeit to the use of the schools in the city a sum not less than $5 nor more than $20 for the first offense, nor less than $10 nor more than $50 for the second and every subsequent offense, and costs of suit.

The law multiplies and enumerates largely on the subject and is mandatory throughout.

There is not a city in the Commonwealth that stands in need of such an officer as does Maysville.

Every day children can be seen wandering aimlessly about the streets whose place is undoubtedly in one of the Public Schools.

The Board of Education contains among its number gentlemen of classical education as well as being endowed with a spirit of Christianity.

Why they have thus far neglected to carry out the letter and spirit of the law is something beyond the ken of the writer.

W. P. Walton, Editor of The Morning Democrat at Lexington, has sold that paper to Desha Breckinridge of The Herald. The Democrat will be discontinued, the good will, advertising and subscription list being turned over to The Herald. The Herald has always been a Democratic paper, teaching the doctrines laid down by Jefferson, exemplified by Jackson and taught by Tilden and Breckinridge. It will continue to be a Democratic paper, teaching Democratic doctrines, and inculcating Democratic principles. It will continue to be, as it always has been, courteous in the discussion of every public question, careful of the feelings of every opponent, loyal to every friend, trying to justify the friendship and support of every honest man, to deserve the enmity of no man. Under the able Management THE LEDGER predicts much success for the paper, which already has a high place in the realm of Kentucky journalism.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. NATIONAL INTEREST
Kentucky and Ohio-New York
Furnish Unusual Cases
Marcum Damage Suit and Mrs.
Chadwick's Successful
Forgeries

Public interest in divided between two cases which are, as far as we know, unparalleled in the history of American jurisprudence. In the little city of Winchester, the gateway to the mountains, the last outpost of the Blue-grass—before entering the foothills—a case has been called, that will, before it is through, excite more interest and arouse more comment than has any suit for damages for a generation. Mrs. Marcum, the widow of J. B. Marcum, one of the leading lawyers of the mountains, sues James Hargis, the County Judge of Breathitt county; Alex. Hargis, ex-Senator from that Senatorial District; Ed. Callahan, present Sheriff and B. F. French, one of the lawyers in the case, and who was at one time one of the most prominent men in the mountains, for $100,000 for the death of her husband. The widow, whose husband was shot down in front of the Courthouse, sues the officials of the county charged with the duty of preserving peace, of executing the law, and sworn to do their duty, for $100,000 damages for the assassination of her husband. On the very day on which the case is set there was a sensation that riveted the attention of the world. Three witnesses, upon whom the plaintiff's attorneys relied most to prove her case, after affidavits had been made that they were offered bribes to leave the state, threatened if they did not leave, disappeared. Reports are current that they have been heard from, and are in hiding in some town in Ohio, and that one of the defendants has gone to that state to see them. On one side there is a widow, whose husband, in the full bloom of stalwart manhood, was cut down by an assassin's bullet, and five children, whose father and protector was slain; this widow and these children, without money, without friends, without influence, appealing to the Courts of the state for damages against the most influential, the richest and most powerful men in the county in which they lived. It is an appeal to the law for justice by the weak and the helpless against the rich and powerful.

In Cleveland and in New York there is another case beginning which will also attract world-wide attention. Mrs. Chadwick, whose name was unknown to all except her circle of personal acquaintances a few weeks ago, has been indicted for forgery and for conspiracy to defraud a National Bank. This indictment was found by the Federal Grand Jury. Mrs. Chadwick was arrested in New York and she will either be bailed in New York or will be returned to Cleveland for arraignment and trial. The case is without parallel in America, though it has its counterpart in the Humbert swindle in France. Mrs. Chadwick, it seems, has had a most varied career; public records show that when she was but a girl she was charged with forgery; from that time she has gone through every grade of deceit and fraud until in 1897, after serving a term in the Penitentiary, she married one of the wealthiest and leading physicians of Cleveland. Since that time, an incomplete report shows that she has, on worthless securities and forged notes, borrowed hundreds and hundreds of thousands of dollars. Men of the highest reputation, of the most stainless character, including the Pastor of the leading Baptist Church of Cleveland, have been her victims, her dupes, her accomplices. She has brought to bear influence that is beyond comprehension. There has been a line in any paper which she secured, whether they were speculation, whether they were spent in extravagant living, whether they have been sent to be used by her, whether they have been sent to Europe. What has become of them no one seems to know, or, if it is known, no one is willing to tell.

The Medicine That Cures.
WINE OF CARDUI
RENO, OHLA, May 11, 1908.
Wine of Cardui absolutely cures sick women. I consider it the most valuable medicine, and it is the cheapest cure any sick woman can use, as it takes as a rule, only a few bottles to effect a complete and lasting cure. I especially recommend it for uterine or ovarian troubles, inflammation and ulceration, painful, profuse or scanty menstruation and it is a most valuable adjunct to use during the gestative period, insuring easy childbirth and speedy recovery.
It should have a place in every home as it is a true friend to wife, mother and maiden and I most heartily recommend it.

MRS. SOPHIA DULEY.

The ending of the life of one who had reached the extreme age of about ninety-four years has awakened a desire among many to know something of the ancestors of the deceased.

The father of the subject of this sketch was the Rev. Benjamin Northcott, who was born in the Colony of North Carolina January 16th, 1770. His parents emigrated to that Colony from Virginia sometime previous to his birth. Early in the settlement of Virginia a family of Northcotts settled there from England, from whom have descended all of the families of that name in the South and West. His parents were early converts under the preaching of the Methodist Ministers.

At the age of nineteen Benjamin Northcott removed to Kentucky and settled in Fleming county. About one year after this he became a Preacher in the Methodist Church.

In 1794 he was married to Miss Jane Armstrong, and from this union three daughters were born. In a few years his first wife died. He afterwards married Miss Martha Odell. Their union was blessed by a family of twelve children. All of the fifteen children, five sons and ten daughters, lived to be grown and married.

Sophia, the subject of this sketch, was twice married, having married Hiram Duley, four children resulting from the union. After his death she was united in marriage to Charles Z. Duley, the brother of her first husband. To them were born, also, four children. All of the eight children lived to be grown and married. Six of them survive her. In addition to rearing this large family she had as a part of her household, and under her care and direction, two orphans, the children of her husband's sister, and later in life two grandchildren. In all the relations of life she was an amiable, sweet tempered woman, true to her Church, her family and her friends. Many kind deeds, many sweet ministrations to the sick and discouraged, marked her pathway through life. "She did her part well."

Rev. H. C. Northcott is the only one of the family surviving her.
[Much of the above is taken from the Biography of the Rev. Benjamin Northcott, written by his son, Rev. H. C. Northcott.]

Sir Knights Hustling to Make It the Grandest Ever

Every detail is being carefully looked after and that the Ball will be the grandest event given in the city is not for an instant to be doubted.

DeKalb Lodge Entertained Grand Master Bailey Last Night

One of the most delightful occasions in the history of DeKalb Lodge No. 12, I. O. O. F., was that accorded Grand Master of Kentucky Oddfellows D. L. Bailey of Louisville last night.

About one hundred Oddfellows gathered at DeKalb Lodge Hall, among them being visitors from Lexington, Augusta and several other contiguous towns, and after the regular business of the evening was gone through, Grand Master Bailey gave one of the most entertaining addresses ever heard in the Lodge-room.

After speeches by Past Grand Master William D. Cole and Treasurer John Duley, the assemblage repaired to the banquet hall, where the knife and fork degree was conferred to most inspiring music by Outten's Superb Orchestra.

The splendid entertainment and banquet were due to the efforts of those three giant hustlers, Will R. Smith, Thomas P. Boyce and E. W. Hutehison.

The Key that Unlocks the Door to Long Living.

The men of eighty-five and ninety years of age are not the rotund, well-fed, but thin, spare men who live on a slender diet. Be as careful as he will, however, a man past middle age will occasionally eat too much of some article of food not suited to his constitution, and will need a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets to cleanse and invigorate his stomach and regulate his liver and bowels. When this is done there is no reason why the average man should not live to old age. For sale by all Druggists.

Voice of the People

When the heaven-born thought was presented to the mind of the remarkably efficient Superintendent of the Christian Church Sunday-school—and he announcing same in their presence—that instead of receiving presents this Christmas as usual the reverse would be the order, if agreeable to all, quick as a flash young and old caught the beautiful spirit of Charity and indeed seemed to be happy in the thought of being allowed the privilege of donating to those who are not blessed with an abundance of this world's goods.

Thus we trust that many hearts may be made to rejoice this inclement winter.

The giver, we fully realize, will rejoice the more, feeling that there are times where it is better to give than to receive. E. M.

Miss Brice of Flemingsburg, O., was here yesterday.

THAT'S THE LEDGER.

The Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage says— "A newspaper whose columns overflow with the advertisements of business men has more influence in attracting attention to and building up a city or town than any other agency that can be employed. People go where there is business. Capital and labor will locate where there is enterprising community. No power on earth is so strong to build up a town as newspapers well patronized, and this power should be appreciated."

Christmas.

Hints to Lady and Gentlemen Friends.

This is the season of the year that we always have the pleasure of waiting on hundreds of lady patrons. We enjoy it, too. Wish there were more holiday seasons, for the ladies cannot come too often. We are aware that good old St. Nick finds it very hard work filling men's socks with suitable gifts. A MAN LIKES SOMETHING HE CAN WEAR. But have a care; he doesn't want "bargain counter" stuff; he won't wear antiquated Neckwear. Get his present where he buys his wearables. Get them HERE, and then you can't go wrong. This whole store is a veritable Christmas tree of gifts. Beautiful Ties, Faultless Shirts, just right Underwear, substantial Half Hose, fine Linen Handkerchiefs, good Collars and Cuffs, Handsome Umbrellas, Silk Suspenders, Silk and Wool Mufflers. Let us be your official stocking filler, and "he" will be highly pleased.

GO TO THE RESCUE

Don't Wait Till It's Too Late—Follow the Example of a Maysville Citizen.

Rescue the aching back. If it keeps on aching, trouble comes. Backache is kidney ache. If you neglect the kidneys' warning, Look out for urinary trouble—diabetes. This Maysville citizen will show you how to go to the rescue.

Edward Oliver of 108 West Fourth street says:

It did not require an entire box of Doan's Kidney Pills to entirely end backache which had troubled me for a considerable length of time. I prepared the remedy at J. Jas. Wood & Son's Drugstore, corner of West Second and Market streets and my advice to any one in need of a kidney cure is to try Doan's Kidney Pills and they will not be disappointed at the results obtained.
